Your Classification Challenges:

I need to be confident and accurate in my classifications.

I need to understand the difference between a part, subassembly, and finished good.

I need to have my entire team using the same method and getting the same results.

I have thousands of parts and I need a method that is quick and easy to apply!

Topics Covered:

The experts at Masters Method University will show you how to break down your "world" of parts and feed them through our Parts Rule. We will walk you through our entire Parts Classification process, including:

- How to identify a part vs. a finished good
- The 3 step rule for every part classification, including EO Parts, Parts of Articles, and Other Parts
- Classification of subassemblies by name and by function
- BONUS: Learn and remember with real hands on practice activities
