

Automating Imports at Emerson: Key Learnings to Unlock the Value in Your Global Supply Chain

NOVEMBER 3, 2016
2:00PM ET

Companies are digitizing their global supply chain to streamline the end-to-end import process and establish strong internal controls to stay in compliance and qualify for benefits under the Importer Self-Assessment (ISA) program. This webinar will explore how Emerson Automation Solutions has automated their import compliance operations, and strategies for measuring and communicating the value of automation.

Key topics will include:

- Emerson's master data management (MDM) best practices to establish a strong foundation for automation
- The benefits of attaining ISA status
- A summary of the benefits realized by automating the import process
- The important digital technologies used to achieve these automation benefits
