What the TPP Agreement Means for U.S. Retail Companies

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 2015
2:00PM EDT

This year, the Trade Promotion Authority (TPA) bill passed into law - a vital step to further progress towards free trade providing a strong backing for the President to lower tariffs between Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) countries. Comprised of 12 countries that make up 40 percent of the world's economy, the TPP Agreement will set high standards for trade and provide new and substantial market access for U.S. retail companies.

Join Amber Road and AAFA for our upcoming webinar, What the TPP Agreement Means for U.S. Retail Companies, which will discuss the commercial and compliance details behind this historic agreement and explain how to qualify for the trade benefits inherent to the TPP Agreement.
