

Trade Compliance Analyst

Precision Aviation Group (PAG) is a leading provider of products and value-added services to the aerospace and defense industries worldwide. PAG's global presence includes 23 locations and 20 Repair Stations in the United States, Canada, Australia, Singapore, and Brazil. Our customer-focused business model serves aviation customers through Supply Chain and Inventory Supported Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (ISMRO®) services.

We have an opening for a Trade Compliance Analyst position based in our Atlanta, Georgia corporate headquarters.

The Trade Compliance Analyst provides transactional support of import/export compliance fundamentals to support the Trade Compliance Officer in the mission to maximize cross border efficiencies while maintaining Global trade and logistics compliance standards that can improve cycle time and bring high customer service levels. This role applies fundamental trade compliance rules, regulations and best practices to determine shipment processes follow all importation or exportation laws. This role also reviews part catalog items for proper Hazardous Materials / Dangerous Goods classification and declaration prior to shipping, providing support and technical assistance across the globe, and support monitoring and resolution of issues associated with inbound/outbound movement of goods.

Requirements for this role include 3-5 years demonstrated experience in Logistics and/or Trade Compliance operations with an emphasis on Import compliance experience and hands on use of Harmonized Tariff Code. Knowledge of international shipping and import requirements in different regions. Strong experience working in a collaborative, cross-functional environment, both domestic and international. Action and results oriented, sense of urgency, flexible, hardworking, team player who thrives in a fast-paced business with frequent and rapid priority changes. Excellent verbal and written communication skills and ability to remain poised in all situations. Brokers' license is a plus.

PAG is a stable and growing organization with a tremendous infrastructure to support the professional efforts of its highly capable staff while maintaining a friendly and down-to-earth work environment. We offer competitive compensation and a wide array of benefit options, to include 401k plan with company match. Why just strive ...come thrive with PAG. With us the sky really is the limit!

Qualified candidates are encouraged to submit their resume using the Careers link on our web page at www.precisionaviationgroup.com.

AA/EOE/M/F/V/D